

PennState

College of Medicine

HRSA T32

Primary Care Research Fellowship

Essential Elements of the Training Program

- Individualized Coursework
- Mentored interdisciplinary translational research
- Tailored seminar series

Meet the program director:

David Rábago, MD

Professor: Department of Family and Community Medicine

Research areas include integrated therapies for upper respiratory disease and chronic pain.

Research profile:

<https://pennstate.pure.elsevier.com/en/persons/david-rabago>

Program Director: David Rábago, MD
Email: drabago@pennstatehealth.psu.edu

Faculty Support from a variety of departments including:

- Family and Community Medicine
- Pediatrics
- General Internal Medicine
- Psychiatry
- Public Health Sciences
- Biobehavioral health
- Health Policy and Administration
- Neural and Behavioral Sciences

ASSOCIATE DIRECTORS

Aleksandra Zgierska, MD, PhD

Department of Family and Community Medicine

Research profile: <https://pennstate.pure.elsevier.com/en/persons/aleksandra-zgierska>

Jennifer McCall-Hosenfeld, MD, MSc

Department of General Internal Medicine

Research profile: <https://pennstate.pure.elsevier.com/en/persons/jennifer-mccall-hosenfeld>

Ian Paul, MD, MSc

Department of Pediatrics

Research profile: <https://pennstate.pure.elsevier.com/en/persons/ian-paul>

Program basics

- Open to those with an MD, DO, PhD or equivalent
- Two year program focused on conduct of primary care research
- Emphasis on addiction, mental health, and socioeconomic disparities
- Funds available for stipends, tuition, and research related costs
- Fellows will engage with their mentorship team and train to become a clinician scientist able to compete for external funding

Mail: Primary Care Research Fellowship
500 University Drive, Mail Code A172
PO Box 850, Hershey, PA 17033

Program Coordinator: Holly-Mae Carver
Email: hcarver@pennstatehealth.psu.edu